HISTORY:

The Hindi language is a direct descendant of Sanskrit and dates back to 769 AD. The language gained prominence over time, known initially as Old Hindi and spoken in the areas around Delhi. It is the earliest stage of the Delhi dialect, serving as the ancestor both for Modern Hindi and Urd. Speaking and learning Hindi as a first language was popular in the 13th and 15th centuries, around the same time that early Hindi writing in literature surfaced.

OVERVIEW:

From this course, students will learn the various elementary roles of the Hindi language, such as the alphabet and the formation of words by combining two, three and four letters. Understanding of Hindi Matras will develop and will be able to read, write and speak by creating new words from Matras.
